"A4. Objection repeated. Provide 2 off-street loading berths. Art. IV, Sec. 19A, subd. (b)(5) of Zoning Resol.

A5. Objection repeated. Area of existing inner court may not be reduced. (Note: Wall of new extension encroaches 13' 7" x 0' 10" on Court). Art. IV, Sec. 19(e), Zon. Resol.

A6. Objection repeated. That portion of existing building, directly opposite new structure, which sets back 2 inches from the street lot line may not be counted as excess height. Correct computations accordingly. Art. IV, Sec. 9(e) Zon. Resol.

use of such extension has no possible need of such berths and to require them in the extension would not be equivalent to placing them in the present hotel; that the Board finds that while it is sympathetic to the purposes of Section 19A that the provisions of Section 19A subdivision j indicates that the Legislature recognized that there were cases where these requirements would not be proper or fair; that in this case the usual removal of refuse at night is, in the opinion of the Board, an adequate substitute; and

WHEREAS, as to Objection A5 the Board finds that there is substantial compliance; that as to Objection A6 the Board finds that it was not intended to deprive an owner of the extra height calculation benefits merely because a building alongside or opposite happens to be constructed slightly behind the street line; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 270.16 ft. frontage by 202.55 feet and 337.66 feet in depth, triangular, on which is located a gasoline service station, lubritorium, auto-laundry, public garage, office, show-room, motor vehicle repair shop, welding, painting, spraying, sale and display of used cars; that it is proposed to maintain existing uses and add uses of baling and storage of old clothes and storage of lubricating oil; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the alteration consists of demolishing the existing gasoline service station office, toilet, store room, lubritorium and bring these uses, with a boiler room, within the garage building; that the new front will be of porcelain enamel with aluminum trim and will face Cypress Hills Street, Central Avenue and Otto Road intersection; that proper dividing walls meeting the building code requirements are to be provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the proposed alteration was not shown on the plans when approved under Cal. No. 576-23-BZ, Vol. II for the reason that at that time Mr. Sam Iofrese, the lessee, did not have the commitment from the Tidewater Oil association as to the financial arrangement concerning the cost of the alteration; that the proposed alteration actually reduces the area of the garage, motor vehicle repair shop, welding, auto laundry and used car room space, as shown on revised plans of proposed conditions as approved by the Board, and reduces said area of the building on the lot from approximately 25,720 square feet to 24,394 square feet; that this alteration also increases the open available space for cars purchasing gasoline from the service station, thereby getting them off the city sidewalk and onto private property; that there will be no change from the provisions of the resolution and no change in occupancy, as approved, except in the area No. 64-21 Central Avenue which was formerly occupied by the Elmhurst Bus company for storage and repairs to their buses, whose lease expired and have since moved; that this area has now been leased to the Institution Export corporation and is used for storage and repair of their trucks and for baling and storage of old clothes for exporting purposes; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to the property since June 10, 1946; that the assessed valuation of land is $56,000 and of the building $79,000 making a total of $135,000; that the building was erected in 1923; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on April 8, 1924, as thereafter amended by resolution adopted on February 10, 1953, by adding thereto:

"that in the event the owner desires to rearrange the premises by enlarging the open area of the gasoline station and reconstructing the building for the uses as proposed and to use a portion of the premises within the unrestricted use district for the storage of oil and decanting lubricating oil from large containers to smaller containers, using filling pumps shown on plan in northeast area occupied by Val Oil Co., and to change a portion of the premises partly in the unrestricted zone for the baling and storage of old clothes for export, such changes may be permitted as proposed and as indicated on revised plans marked "Received April 7, 1954," 5 sheets, and "April 3, 1956," 2 sheets, on condition that the gasoline selling area shall be reconstructed as proposed and shown thereon, except that the exterior walls shall be of face brick; that the space to be used for the storage and baling of clothes for export

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEST

Re: Cal. 481-55-SM

Subject: Swivel Tobble Hanger (for suspended ceilings).

Fireproof Products Company, Inc., for Conver Steel and Wire Co., New York filed June 7, 1955 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the material known as Swivel Toggle Hanger under the provisions of C26-461. Administrative Building Code.

Purpose

The material is used in the construction of suspended ceilings.

Description

The swivel toggle is a device nailed to the upper side of the plywood forms in concrete work. The toggle hanger is a box of 24 gauge steel, $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches long by $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches high by 1 inch wide. Inside the box and pivoted on a $\frac{3}{8}$ inch round rod, bent in the shape of a "U" with hooked ends is a 1 inch x $\frac{3}{16}$ inch x 4 inch flat bar. When the concrete is poured in the box, all except the bottom face is embedded in concrete and when the forms are stripped the 1 inch x $\frac{3}{16}$ inch x 4 inch flat bar pivots on the $\frac{3}{8}$ inch rod and extends below the arch, to this flat then are attached the hangers or channels required for the suspension system.

Inspection and Test

The toggle was inspected by Asst. Engr. J. A. Darts Committee on Test and tests were conducted at Manhattan College.

Results are as follows:

Tension: (1) the jig holding the toggle failed at 6200 lbs. and the toggle was still intact.

(2) the toggle was imbedded in concrete as is the practice in construction; the concrete failed at 8600 lbs.

(3) similar to test (2), concrete failure at 8250 lbs.

Recommendation

On the basis of the inspection and test and the data filed by the applicant, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the Swivel Toggle Hanger, as herein described, for voluntary use in New York City under the provisions of C26-461. Administrative Building Code on condition that no one toggle shall carry more than 750 lbs. concentrated load and that each carton in which the toggle is marketed shall be tagged, stamped or marked as follows: "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Cal. No. 481-55-SM."

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby approve this material in accordance with the above report.

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated October 1, 1956 acting on N.B. Applic. 1642-56, reads:

"1. The proposed height of the building exceeds the maximum height as permitted under Art. III Sec. 8 Sub. (b) of the Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 280 feet frontage by 105 feet in depth, now vacant; that it is proposed to erect a multiple dwelling, six stories in height, of class 3 construction having a frontage of 274 feet and an irregular depth of 73 feet 6 inches; that the proposed building will have a height of 60 feet and the permissible height without a setback of part of the front wall is 46 feet 3 inches; that the building has a frontage of 276 feet and as per section 9, subdivision (c), 46% of the frontal length of the building could rise to a height of 60 feet, and said 46% equals 126 feet; that the front wall of the building, deducting court setbacks, has a length of 186 feet 8 inches, and therefore the building is not in accord with sections 8b and 9c for only 60 running feet; and dwelling, he erected the aforementioned one without setbacks and now cannot proceed with the building in question without setbacks that would not permit a feasible layout; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owners have held title to Parcels A and C since July 29, 1954 and to parcel B since May 2, 1955, and that the assessed valuation of land is $25,000; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board and the committee finds that the revised plans show that, due to the dormers, the bulk of the building can rise to the sixth story height and the committee recommends that the application should be granted as this is on the Nostrand Avenue front and does not affect the rear in any way or the permitted height of the building; the recent zoning amendment as to the street width requirements does not preclude construction of multiple dwellings; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that the applicant had substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion to grant under Section 21 of the Zoning Resolution, and is therefore entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the height district regulations of the Zoning Resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 21 as to height regulations to permit construction between dormers as proposed and as indicated on plans filed with this application marked "Received October 3, 1956," (3 sheets), "December 3, 1956," (one sheet), "February 7, 1957," (3 sheets), and "February 21, 1957," (one sheet), without increase in height of the building on condition that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; and that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

The units consist basically of a (1) cabinet containing the heat exchanger, burners and draft diverter, (2) a propeller fan or blower with a suitable motor, mounted at the rear of the unit for the purpose of forcing air across the heat exchanger surfaces, (3) controls consisting of a manual shut-off valve, pilot adjusting valve, automatic pilot to shut-off the main supply of gas if no pilot flame is burning, a pressure regulator to control the gas pressure at a predetermined setting, an automatic main control valve to provide means for turning the gas on or off by remote means, such as a thermostat or switch, a limit switch to shut-off the gas in the event of overheating, a fan switch to delay action of the blower until heated air is in the unit and to delay shut-off of the fan or blower until all heat has been dissipated and a summer switch to turn the fan or blower on when no heat is being used, (4) a set of adjustable air deflecting vanes at the air discharge end of the unit so that the direction of air delivery can be controlled as desired, (5) heat exchanger surfaces are ceramic coated to insure long life by guarding against rusting or burning out, (6) burners are drilled port cast iron with adjustable primary air shutters.

RULES

Fire Drill Rules, Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 5, 1923

(593-23-SR)

DEFINITION OF "FIRE DRILL"

The method and practice of the systematic and orderly vacating of a building by its occupants in case of emergency, panic or fire in the least possible time—by the nearest safe means of exit—and the use of fire appliances which shall be provided for the extinguishing or retarding of fire and the safeguarding of human life.

Rule 1.

In all buildings as defined in Article 1, Section 10 of the Labor Law in which fire drills are required pursuant to Section 279 thereof and in any other building in which such drills are required by the Fire Commissioner pursuant to the power conferred in section 491 of the New York City Charter, it shall be the duty of the owners, lessees or tenants to conduct fire drills monthly and at such other times as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

For the purpose of conducting such fire drills the owner or tenants shall appoint from among their employees such responsible and dependable persons, male or female, who shall efficiently perform the duties of the various positions of the fire drill organization, as specified on the accompanying chart.

It shall be the duty of the owner or tenant to enter in the blank spaces provided for that purpose in said chart the names of persons so selected and post said chart and copies of the rules in a conspicuous place.

Rule 2. Duties of Foreman.

The Foreman or Person in Charge shall direct, enforce and have full charge of the "Fire Drill" in every factory on each floor. Each day before work is begun he shall see that extinguishers, fire hose, fire buckets, etc., are in readiness for use, exit doors are unlocked, aisles are free from obstruction, that stairways, halls, etc., are properly lighted, and shall remedy any dangerous condition found to exist. Immediately after work is commenced he shall check up the Fire Drill Organization list and note if the regularly assigned persons are present; if any are found to be absent, he shall assign other employees (if practicable) to perform their duties.

He shall immediately notify new employees of the existence of the Fire Drill Organization and give them the necessary instructions as to the duties they are to perform, etc.

He shall be familiar with the operation and location of the interior alarm signal box on his floor.

He shall listen for the test signal each morning at the appointed hour and in the event of the test signal not being heard he shall communicate with the superintendent or other person in charge of the building and advise him of the fact. The (Floor Captain's) Foreman's orders are final as to the carrying out of the fire drill on his particular floor.

Rule 3. Duties of Watchmen.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

RULES

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 11 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.

"1. Provide second means of egress, in accordance with Section 271 of the L.L. Present front fire escape is not acceptable, building being 7 stories in height."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 7 stories, 91 feet 7 inches in height, 25 feet 8 inches front by 93 feet in depth at street level, 25 feet 8 inches front by 88 feet in depth at typical floor level, of class 3 construction, erected 1894, located on a lot 25 feet 8 inches front by 100 feet and 100 feet 1¾ inches in depth, in an unrestricted use, B area, class 2 height district, used and occupied since 1894 as follows: cellar—ordinary, boiler and storage, no persons; 1st floor—retail store, 4 persons; 2nd floor—office, sorting and baling of used clothing, 6 persons; 3rd floor—manufacturing hat blocks, 2 persons; 4th floor—manufacturing caps, 5 persons; 5th floor—manufacturing clothing, 15 persons; 6th floor—manufacturing clothing, 12 persons; 7th floor—manufacturing shoe ornaments, 6 persons; that no change in use or occupancy is now proposed; that the building is equipped with an approved interior fire alarm system and regular monthly fire drills are maintained, there is one 3 foot 1 inch wide interior wood stairs, enclosed in partitions of wire lath and plaster, equipped with steel plate self-closing doors, stairhall leads to roof bulkhead; that in addition there is one fire escape on the front, extending to street by counterbalance ladder, window and door openings on the course of the fire escape, are not fireproof self-closing; and

WHEREAS, Violation #4117/57 was issued June 8, 1957 for violation of Section 271 of the Labor Law in that the second means of egress is a fire escape; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is provided with one interior stairs completely enclosed with fire retarded partitions; that all doors to stair are fireproof self-closing; that the stair leads to roof bulkhead and in a continuously fire retarded enclosure direct to the street; that the existing second means of egress is a Labor Law fire escape with counterbalance stairs located at the front of the building; that the windows on the course of the fire escape are existing double hung wood sash glazed with wire glass, self-closing with fusible links; that the entire premises is provided with an approved interior fire alarm system with A.D.T. service; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the typical floor area is less than 2000 square feet, and the net area after deducting stairs, elevators, and toilets, is approximately 1700 square feet; that the number of occupants on each floor is small; that none of the uses are hazardous; that each floor is occupied by a single tenant; that since the building is a narrow interior building, it would be highly impracticable to provide a satisfactory second means of egress, in the form of a stairway; that since the occupancy is limited and non-hazardous; that since the building is provided with fire retarded enclosed stairway and outside Labor Law type fire escape with counterbalance stairs at the street front, and an interior fire alarm system; that it is requested that the existing exits which are adequate and which were legal until the retroactive provisions of the Labor Law was enacted be accepted; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board, which found the house-keeping conditions poor and the exits not in accordance with requirements, inasmuch as the existing fire escape and stair are both in the front of the building and the rear is left without any means of exit on all floors, and the Committee therefore recommended that the appeal should not be granted.

Resolved, that the decision of the Borough Superintendent acting on Alt. Applic. 1765/57, Objection No. 1 be and it hereby is affirmed and that the application be and it hereby is denied.

RULES

Fire Drill Rules, Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 5, 1923

(593-23-SR)

DEFINITION OF "FIRE DRILL"

The method and practice of the systematic and orderly vacating of a building by its occupants in case of emergency, panic or fire in the least possible time—by the nearest safe means of exit—and the use of fire appliances which shall be provided for the extinguishing or retarding of fire and the safeguarding of human life.

Rule 1.

In all buildings as defined in Article 1, Section 10 of the Labor Law in which fire drills are required pursuant to Section 279 thereof and in any other building in which such drills are required by the Fire Commissioner pursuant to the power conferred in section 491 of the New York City Charter, it shall be the duty of the owners, lessees or tenants to conduct fire drills monthly and at such other times as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

For the purpose of conducting such fire drills the owner or tenants shall appoint from among their employees such responsible and dependable persons, male or female, who shall efficiently perform the duties of the various positions of the fire drill organization, as specified on the accompanying chart.

It shall be the duty of the owner or tenant to enter in the blank spaces provided for that purpose in said chart the names of persons so selected and post said chart and copies of the rules in a conspicuous place.

Rule 2. Duties of Foreman.

The Foreman or Person in Charge shall direct, enforce and have full charge of the "Fire Drill" in every factory on each floor. Each day before work is begun he shall see that extinguishers, fire hose, fire buckets, etc., are in readiness for use, exit doors are unlocked, aisles are free from obstruction, that stairways, halls, etc., are properly lighted, and shall remedy any dangerous condition found to exist. Immediately after work is commenced he shall check up the Fire Drill Organization list and note if the regularly assigned persons are present; if any are found to be absent, he shall assign other employees (if practicable) to perform their duties.

He shall immediately notify new employees of the existence of the Fire Drill Organization and give them the necessary instructions as to the duties they are to perform, etc.

He shall be familiar with the operation and location of the interior alarm signal box on his floor.

He shall listen for the test signal each morning at the appointed hour and in the event of the test signal not being heard he shall communicate with the superintendent or other person in charge of the building and advise him of the fact. The (Floor Captain's) Foreman's orders are final as to the carrying out of the fire drill on his particular floor.

Rule 3. Duties of Watchmen.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

RULES

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 11 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.

COURT DECISION

Matter of Tannen, et al vs. Harris H. Murdock, et al:—On December 8, 1953, the Board denied an application under Section 21 of the Zoning Resolution to permit in a residence use (G-1 area) district the maintenance of an existing dwelling without the required rear yard, the required front yard setback and the required side yard, also the encroachment of stoop on side yard using more than the area permitted; Cal. No. 14-50-BZ, Vol. II; Premises 80-63 208th Street, Flushing, Borough of Queens.

At Special Term, Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Joseph M. Conroy remitted the matter to the Board for reconsideration. (N.Y. Law Journal, March 13, 1958, page 11.) The court decision is as follows:

"These proceedings to review the determination of the respondents denying petitioners' application for a variance of area use, pursuant to section 21 of the Zoning Resolution, was commenced by the issuance of an order of certiorari, dated January 8, 1954.
Respondents served their return, verified December 31, 1957, on January 17, 1958, and by motion, made the same day, they moved for an order vacating the order of certiorari, dismissing the petition, and affirming the determination under review. The motion to dismiss the petition is denied, the determination is annulled, and the matter is remitted for reconsideration in light of the claim that the house was built in conformity with 'F' area district regulations prior to the change thereof to a 'G-1' area, which change became effective subsequent to the procurement of a building loan mortgage for $10,000 from the Franklin Society for Home Building and Savings and the commencement, if not the completion, of the building. It appeared upon the argument that the open porch of the present structure was the only portion thereof which materially varied from the requirements of the changed area use designation. Consideration should therefore be given to the claim of the petitioners that the modification proposed by them would provide a front line setback precisely the same distance of the front line of the porch of the premises immediately adjoining to the north, and would thus result in a dwelling which is in general keeping with the neighborhood and in substantial compliance with the new area designation. Settle order."

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, this application was reopened as Vol. IV on September 25, 1956 subject to regular procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on March 11, 1958 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; laid over to March 18, 1958, for hearing at request of attorney for objectors, applicant concurring; then to April 15, 1958, for inspection and decision; hearing closed; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the Zoning Resolution show that the site, 43rd Street and 44th Street are in business and residence use, C area, class 1¼ height districts; Fourth Avenue and Fifth Avenue are in a business use, C area, class 1¼ height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated June 4, 1957 acting on Alt. Applic. No. 467-55, reads:

"1. The proposed use does not agree with the conditions of approval of the resolution Cal. 52-48-A and Cal. 303-26-BZ of the Bd. of S & A.

"2. The proposed change in use from public garage for more than 5 cars to storage of paper cartons on 1st floor and manufacture of infants apparel, quilts, blankets and pillows on the 2nd floor, partly in a business and partly in a residence use district is contrary to the Zoning Res.—Art. II Sect. 3."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 162 feet frontage by 100 feet 2 inches in depth, presently improved with a two story class I structure, erected pursuant to a variance granted by the Board many years ago; that the building was designed to be used as a storage garage for more than five motor vehicles and Certificate of Occupancy No. 43767, dated March 30, 1927 was issued permitting such use to be maintained therein; that it is proposed to use the first floor for storage purposes; that there will be no person employed therein except during the brief periods while loading and unloading operations are in progress; that the second floor is to be used for the manufacture, storage and distribution of infants' apparel, quilts, blankets and pillows; that the maximum number of persons employed will not exceed forty; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the owner has found it impossible to rent the building for the former garage use and to obtain a fair return therefrom and accordingly sought permission from the Board to use the property for business purposes and on June 19, 1956 the Board granted the application to the extent of permitting the first floor of the premises to be used for the storage of metal furniture in cartons; that the second floor was vacant at that time and therefore the variance was not granted with respect thereto; that the owner has now obtained a tenant for the second floor for a period of six years to permit the property to be used for the manufacture, storage and distribution of infants' apparel, quilts, blankets and pillows and as offices, incident thereto; that in the meantime, the use of the first floor has been somewhat changed in that it is now used solely for the storage of paper cartons, there being no furniture stored therein; that this application presents a definite improvement over the uses which were originally permitted on this property; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the manufacturing will be confined to very light work involving no noxious odors, fumes, smoke or other factors which might be offensive; that the manufacturing processes will be conducted exclusively during normal business periods and will not result in a 24 hour operation as was true of the public garage; that this use would be conforming insofar as the portion of the premises within the business district is concerned; that it does not conform to the requirements of the Zoning Resolution insofar as the residence use portion is concerned, but the proposed use will be far more desirable than that which had been conducted on the premises; that entrance to the lower floor will be by means of doors leading from 44th Street at the easterly and westerly end of the building; that facilities for loading and unloading operations will be provided within the building and therefore there will be no interference with passersby on the sidewalks; that access to the upper floor will be by means of the stairway located at the westerly end of the building and the ramp located on the the easterly end of the building; that an overhead door has been installed at the easterly end of the building closing the ramp when it is not in use, thereby eliminating the unsightly condition that formerly existed there; that the ramp, however, will permit trucks to reach the second floor and will eliminate on-street loading and unloading; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to the property since October 15, 1935; that the assessed valuation of land is $34,000 and of the building $110,000 making a total of $144,000; that the building was erected in 1927; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on June 19, 1956, by adding thereto:

"that in the event the owner desires to change the use of the building so that the first floor would be used as now proposed, for storage of cartons, and the second floor used for the manufacture of infants' apparel, quilts, blankets, pillows, etc., such change of uses may be permitted under Section 7, Subdivision e, for a term of five years, as shown on plans filed with this application, marked "Received July 3, 1957," 3 sheets, and "December 21, 1956," 1 sheet, on condition that the doors through which trucks now enter are increased in height; that no shipments shall be delivered to the second floor by means of the motor vehicle ramp now existing,

which has recently been equipped with new doors; that the building shall not be increased in height or area and in all other respects the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that such fire-fighting appliances shall be installed and maintained as the Fire Commissioner shall require; that there shall be no signs on the building where such building is within the residential use area; that there shall be no additional curb cuts other than those now existing; and that all permits including a certificate of occupancy shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, this application was reopened as Vol. IV on October 15, 1957 subject to regular procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on January 28, 1958 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; laid over to February 18, 1958, at the request of an objector to permit filing of objections; no further request for adjournment considered; then to April 15, 1958, for inspection and decision; hearing closed; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the Zoning Resolution show that the site, 94th Street and Woodhaven Boulevard are in retail and residence use, D and E-1 area, class 1¼ and class 1 height districts; Jamaica Avenue is in a retail use, D and E-1 area, class 1¼ and class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated September 23, 1957 acting on Alt. Applic. 1871-57, reads:

"1. Proposed extension will cover 100% of the surplus plot in a C area district and is contrary to Art. 4, Sec. 13(b) of the Z.R.

2. Proposed elimination of an existing rear yard in a C area district is contrary to Art. 4, Sec. 17 of the Z.R.

3. Proposed extension of a business use into a residence district is contrary to Art. 2, Sec. 3 of the Z.R."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 52.29 feet frontage by 118.49 feet in depth, upon which there is located a two family frame dwelling; that it is proposed to create bank offices on the first and second floors of this frame building, and to erect a class 3 extension to connect these offices to the existing bank building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises began its use as a bank in 1925 in the two story portion of the building located at 93-22 Jamaica Avenue, 20 feet east of Woodhaven Boulevard; that under Cal. No. 411-41-BZ, Cal. No. 796-49-BZ, Vols. I, II and III, and Cal. No. 113-53-A, the bank use was extended to its present area; that since the last substantial extension of the bank area that was completed in 1954 at a cost exceeding $300,000, the facilities of this banking establishment are again strained by the increasing demands of the community and additional office space is sorely needed to conduct its transactions; that overtures have been made to purchase the adjoining building on lot 10, but the owner, realizing the dilemma of the bank, is asking a fantastic price far beyond the value of similar property in the area; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the residential character of 94th Street will not be affected; that there will be no work done to change the front of this building; that the exit doors will be used for emergency egress only and the doors will be latched to prevent entrance from 94th Street; that access to and egress from this area will be through the regular bank entrance; that the adjoining owner on lot 10 will not be affected as to light and air, as shown on plot plan of adjoining owners; that the rear of the existing extension of the dwelling on lot 14 is on line with the west lot line of lot 10; that the adjoining owner on lot 15 will not be affected as to light and air because this dwelling is located on its north lot line; that lots 8 and 14 are under the same ownership and the buildings located on them will become one building; that the lots will be reapportioned into one lot; that the question of a rear yard should therefore not apply; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to lot 8 since 1943 and 1952 and to lot 14 since August 21, 1957; that the assessed valuation of land is $67,500 and of the buildings $180,300 making a total of $247,800; that the Jamaica Avenue building was erected September 3, 1921 and August 26, 1954; that the 94th Street building was erected in 1914; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that this was an appropriate case in which to exercise discretion to grant under Section 7, Subdivision c of the Zoning Resolution, as to use, and that the applicant had substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion to grant under Section 21, and is therefore entitled to relief, as to area, on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use and area district regulation of the Zoning Resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 7c as to use for a term of ten years to permit the addition of Lots 8 and 14 and occupancy of frame buildings there as proposed as an extension, and as proposed to be connected to the present bank building as previously permitted by the Board to be constructed under Vol. III, on condition that the residential appearance of the building shall not be changed; that this Lot may be consolidated with the previous lots as permitted by the Board for a bank building; that the building shall not be extended in height or area and shall not be reconstructed without further consideration by this Board; that the use of the building may be as set forth and as indicated on plans filed with this application marked "Received September 26, 1957", 9 sheets, and "February 10, 1958", 3 sheets; that in all other respects the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto other than as modified this day under Cal. No. 835-57-A; and that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

"1. Six (6) car garage located partly in business and partly in a residential zone is contrary to Art. 2 Sect. 4a-15 & Art. 2 Sect. 3 of Zone Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 60 feet frontage by 100 feet in depth; that the building at front is two stories and attic high, occupied as a two family dwelling by the owners of premises; that the rear building is 59 feet 4 inches wide, 20 feet 6 inches deep and 13 feet high to the center of attic height; that this rear building, with the exception of new masonry walls, has existed, according to the owners, for more than 45 years; that it was formerly all frame; that in 1951 the frame walls of the first floor were replaced with masonry walls, as were the interior walls; that this work was performed by a relative who failed to obtain a permit for same, hence the violation from the Department of Buildings; that at that time it was discovered by the owners that there was no record in the Department of Buildings for the occupancy of the buildings for six cars; that there is no record of any building in the rear, and that may be due to the age of the building; that Fire Department records reveal that Permit No. 69453 for three cars was issued February 2, 1922 and Permit No. 86898 for four cars was issued February 26, 1923; that Permit No. G-557559 is still in effect for four cars; that although there is a record of four cars from the Fire Department, it is the contention of present owners that the premises were actually occupied by six cars for more than thirty years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owners have held title to the property since December 30, 1950; that the assessed valuation of land is $6,000 and of the building $5,000 making a total of $11,000; that the building was erected prior to 1915; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that the applicant had substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion to grant under Section 21 of the Zoning Resolution, and is therefore entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEST

Re: Cal. No. 448-40-SM

Subject: Amendment to resolution as to additional uses, Robertson Steel Floor.

H. H. Robertson Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., requested by letter dated February 18, 1957 that the resolution adopted July 9, 1940 and amended at various times through January 8, 1957 under Cal. No. 448-40-SM be amended so as to extend the use of the approved Robertson Steel Floor. The application was reopened by a vote of the Board March 19, 1957.

Purpose

The cellular steel floor in conjunction with a concrete topping and fire proofing to be used as a fire resistive floor and/or ceiling.

Description

The requested construction differs from the constructions previously approved only insofar as, the fireproofing and the installation of the cellular units.

Inspection and Test

The system was tested at the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., in the presence of Asst. Engr. J. A. Darts, G. F. Sklenarik, Committee on Test in accordance with the requirements of Article II, Chapter 26 Administrative Building Code.

The test specimen was constructed as follows:

1. The cellular units were both corrugated and fluted, in cross section nearly rectangular rather than curved and others are cellular, formed by facing one side of a fluted unit with a flat plate or with another fluted unit, concrete fill above and vermiculite acoustical plastic on the bottom surface (approved under Cal. No. 737-51-SM). The steel beam is protected by a gypsum-vermiculite plaster on metal lath.

The deck was laid in such a way that the order was as follows: one fluted, one cellular, two fluted, one cellular, two fluted, one cellular and continued in like manner until the opening was closed. The ends of the cellular units butted together over the beam; those of the fluted units were crimped slightly and overlapped two inches. The cellular units are welded to the fluted units that are on the bottom of the overlapjoint are welded to the beam at 12 inches on centers before the overlapping units are placed. The overlapping units are welded to the beam on 12 inch centers but staggered 6 inches from the welds of the lower units after the units have been welded, the interlocking joints were pinched together on 2 foot centers.

A filling of sand and gravel concrete is then placed to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches above the tops of the floor units.

Prior to the placing of the concrete, holes are punched through the units and a 9 gauge wire hangers are dropped through. The hangers are spaced 18 inches on centers and are spaced about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch from the edge of the beam. The wires are bent under, and a contact with the bottom flange on the beam, the pairs of wire, one on each side of the beam are then wire tied.

Sheets of flat diamond mesh metal lath wire then bent to form channel shaped pieces that they could box the beam and fit against the wire hangers. The lath is tied to the hangers by 18 gauge tie wire.

The beam was then plastered with a vermiculite gypsum plaster of a mix of 150 lbs. of gypsum to $3\frac{1}{4}$ cu. feet of vermiculite for the scratch coat and 100 lbs. of gypsum to 3 cu. feet of vermiculite for the brown coat. The total thickness applied is $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

The plaster, as approved by the Board under Cal. No. 737-51-SM was applied to the under side of the deck to a thickness of $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

Result of Test: The end point was reached at 3 hours 41 minutes by temperature rise on the unexposed surface of the floor. The complete report National Bureau of Standards 5375 is on file with and is part of the record.

2. The floor system consists of combination of cellular units of two cross sections, one suitable for telephone and electrical lines and the other intended to serve as an air duct, with concrete fill above and a vermiculite acoustical plastic below. The floor system also included a steel beam encased in expanded metal lath and gypsum vermiculite plaster.

The decks were of two cross-sections; the first was made of two sheets formed to make four rectangular cells, $3\frac{1}{8}$ inches high, $3\frac{3}{4}$ inches wide and $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches between cells. The upper sheet was 18 gauge metal and the lower 16 gauge. The upper sheet was bent along each edge to form a standing seam interlocking joint between units. The overall size of each unit was $3\frac{1}{8}$ inches high by 24 inches wide. The other section was made of two sheets of 14 gauge steel and formed to make a single cell $3\frac{1}{8}$ inches high and $9\frac{5}{8}$ inches wide. This single cell unit is to be used for cool air circulation. The upper sheet is bent along each edge to provide the same joint as the 4 cell unit.

After the units were installed, holes were punched through the units at the joints between units and between cells of the 4 cell units and 0.164 inch diameter hanger wire was dropped through. The wires were located 12 inches on center along each side of the beam. Each wire was bent under the beam and lap of 6 inches on a wire from the opposite side.

A filling of sand and gravel concrete is then placed to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches above the top of the floor units.

The flat diamond mesh metal lath is then formed into a "U" shaped section in order to box the beam and is wire tied to the wires, described above, a vermiculite plaster of a mix of 100 lbs. of gypsum to 2 cu. feet of vermiculite for the scratch coat and 100 lbs. of gypsum to 3 cu. feet of vermiculite was applied to a thickness of $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches from the face of the lath.

Aluminum foil faced glass fiber insulation board is cemented to the lower surface of the air duct units and copper-clad steel studs $\frac{3}{4}$ inches long by 0.103 inches diameter and having $\frac{3}{16}$ inches diameter are applied to the under side of the deck on 6 inch centers. Metal lath is then applied and hooked onto the studs.

Vermiculite acoustical plastic is then applied to the under side of the cellular units. The thickness applied was $\frac{5}{8}$ inches under the 4 cell units and $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches from the face of the lath under the air duct units.

Results of Test: The end point was reached at 4 hours 26 minutes by temperature rise on the unexposed surface of the floor. The complete report National Bureau 5608 is on file with and is part of the record.

The applicant has also submitted a test report showing that the sections can be figured on the basis of engineering formula under C26-626.0 Administrative Building Code.

Recommendation

The Committee on Test recommends that the resolution adopted July 9, 1950 and amended at various times through January 8, 1957 under Cal. No. 448-40-SM be amended so as to include the additional use of the steel floor, when constructed as herein described, for a floor and/or roof construction under the provisions of C26-239.0 Administrative Building Code.

The Committee further recommends that the resolution adopted January 8, 1957 be amended as the applicant has submitted tests showing that the sections can be computed by accepted engineering formula, so that the loads shall be figured on the basis of 18,000 psi fiber stress.

The Committee further recommends that in the approvals granted under this Cal. No. in which the concrete strength is specifically mentioned that the concrete shall be of average strength concrete as the concrete acts only as a fill and does not perform as the structural members and is neglected in the design computations but is only figured in as the dead weight of the structure.

The Committee further recommends that in all other respects the requirements of the resolution adopted July 9, 1940 and amended through January 8, 1957 under Cal. No. 448-40-SM be complied with.

Purpose

Conversion type burners for oil or gas fuel.

Description

The Bankheat BH-D and BH-G burners are combination burners consisting of a high pressure oil burner and a gas burner assembled into a single unit. The oil burner consists of a pressure atomizing nozzle and air turbulator installed within a burner tube. The gas burner is built around the burner tube so that the tube forms the inner wall of an annular space providing passage for the gas up to the point where it mixes with primary combustion air ahead of the burner outlet. Combination air for both fuels is provided by a motor driven multi-blade fan.

The BH-D series employ gas-electric ignition for gas fuel and direct electric ignition for oil fuel.

The BH-G series employ gas-electric ignition for both fuels.

The oil burner is equipped with a photo cell to cause automatic shut down of the oil pump in case of flame or ignition failure. The gas burner has a flame rod for shut down of the gas in case of flame or ignition failure. A fuel selector switch prevents burning both fuels at the same time.

The maximum firing rates for the various models are:

Re: Calendar Number 984-57-SA.

Subject: Tokheim Submerged Pumps for Pumping Motor Fuel, Gasoline, By Remote Control, Models 55-E, 55-ES, 72-E, 72-ES, 70-E, 70-ES and Tokheim Pressure Regulator, Model 52.

Tokheim Corporation, Fort Wayne, Indiana, filed December 23, 1957 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the Tokheim Submerged Pump Models 55-E, 55-ES, 72-E, 72-ES, 70-E, 70-ES and the Tokheim Pressure Regulator Model 52 for use in New York City under the provisions of Section C19.69.c Administrative Code.

Purpose

Submerged type pumps for installation in underground storage tanks.

Description

These pumps are centrifugal pumps designed for installation into the top of underground storage tanks through a minimum $3\frac{1}{2}$ inch threaded opening. They are used in service stations for pumping gasoline from storage tanks to remotely located dispensing units.

The Model 55-E Submerged Pump and Motor Unit is equipped with a Special design, heavy duty, electric motor rated at $\frac{3}{4}$ H.P., Approximately 60 G.P.M. Capacity. The Model 55-ES is exactly the same as the Model 55-E, but is furnished equipped with a Siphon Valve arrangement for manifolding together two or more underground storage tanks.

The Model 72-E Submerged Pump and Motor Unit is equipped with a Special design, heavy duty, electric motor rated at $\frac{1}{3}$ H.P., Approximately 30 G.P.M. Capacity. The Model 72-ES is exactly the same as the Model 72-E, but is furnished equipped with a Siphon Valve arrangement referred to above.

The Model 70-E Submerged Pump and Motor Unit is equipped with a Special design, heavy duty, electric motor rated at $\frac{1}{3}$ H.P., Approximately 30 G.P.M. Capacity. The Model 70-ES is exactly the same as the Model 70-E, but is furnished equipped with a Siphon Valve arrangement referred to above.

Each of the above-mentioned units are the same—except for the difference in the windings and rated horsepower of the electric motors, and the difference in delivery capacities. Each Submerged Pump Motor is provided with built-in Thermal Overload protection. Static wire is provided in pump manifold to ground the electrical conduit.

Each Submerged Pump and Motor Unit is furnished with an Electrical Control Panel which contains a line relay, start relay, start capacitor, run capacitor, manual reset overload, and a pilot light.

When the submerged pump motor is turned "on", the liquid "pumped" by the impellers flows through and around the integral explosion-proof motor, cooling and lubricating same. Air or vapor present in the 2" discharge pipe, between the pumping unit and the pump manifold, is eliminated through the steel tube running from the pump manifold downward into the liquid in the storage tank, and the outlet of this tube is at the top of the pump motor. This tube by-passes a small amount of liquid whenever the pump motor is operating, which serves to continually replace liquid within the area around the electric motor and within the 2 inch supply pipe and pump manifold, even when product is not being dispensed, and has a cooling effect on the motor. A Pressure Relief Valve in the pump manifold relieves excess pressure in the supply pipes and dispensers. A built-in Check Valve maintains pressure and keeps the system full of product in the supply pipe and dispensers on the discharge side of the pump manifold.

When these Submerged Pump and Motor Units are used as Booster Pumps, the Model 52 Pressure Regulator, which is a hydraulic pressure regulating valve, is installed under a complete, self-contained suction pump, or pumps, and this valve automatically balances the pressure and vacuum system, and acts as a positive, emergency shut-off valve.

A special Current Relay is used to connect the existing island electric circuit of the self-contained pump, or pumps, with the power service of the remote control submerged pump and motor unit.

The junction box and discharge heads of the pumps are kept accessible by installing a heavy steel street box in the concrete slab over the tank and pump head. The cover plate of the box is secured by countersunk fastening lugs.

Inspection and Test

All details of construction were examined by Ass't. Engr. G. F. Sklenarik, Committee on Test.

The Model 55E and ES, 70-E and ES, 72-E and ES and the Model 52 Pressure Regulator have been tested and approved by the Underwriter's Laboratories under file MH281, MH4948 and MH6810.

Recommendation

On the basis of the examination and the data filed by the applicant, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the Tokheim Submerged Pumps Models 55-E, 55-ES, 72-E, 72-ES, 70-E and 70-ES and the Tokheim Pressure Regulator Model-52 for use in New York City when installed in accordance with this report, the provision of C19-69.0 Administrative Code and the requirements of the Electrical Code of the City of New York and provided that each appliance shall bear a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 984-57-SA."

Purpose

Appliances for dispensing gasoline to motor vehicles.

MINUTES

Description

The Model 350-1 Twin and 350-2 Twin are complete gasoline dispensing units. Each contains two rotary gear type pumping units, meter, air separators and computing type registers with interlocks and two 1/3 HP 115/230V 60 cycle A.C. motors all assembled within a steel frame and covered with sheet steel panels.

A 13 foot hose equipped with a manually operated nozzle is provided on each side of the dispenser.

The Model 350-1 is designed for dispensing a single product and therefore only one suction stud is provided.

The Model 350-2 is designed for dispensing two products and two suction stubs are provided.

The Model 350-1-RC and 350-2-RC are similar to the above except that the pumping units and electric motors have been removed and are intended for use with remote pumping installations. A hydraulic control valve is installed which prevents discharge of product when the switch, which is connected to the electric motor in the remote pumping system is in the "off" position. Integral check valve keeps the system primed and built-in pressure relief valve takes care of product expansion.

The suffix WNC added to the model number indicates that the above units are furnished with wheel type counters registering gallons delivered and total gallons but do not compute the price.

The suffix P added to the model number indicates that the units are furnished with glass advertising panels, two on each register side.

Subject: Tokheim Remote Control Gasoline Pumping Units Models 45-RCP and 46-RCP and Tokheim Island Dispensing Pedestals, Models 45-H-RC and 45-TP-RC, approval of.

Tokheim Corporation, Fort Wayne, Indiana, filed December 23, 1957 an application with the Tokheim Remote Control Gasoline Pumping Units, Models 45-RCP and 46-RCP and Tokheim Island Dispensing Pedestals, Models 45-H-RC and 45-TP-RC for use in New York City under the provisions of Section C19-69.C Administrative Code.

Purpose

Remote control pumping units and island type dispensers for gasoline service stations.

Description

The Model 45-RCP and 46-RCP pumping units are designed for surface installation over underground storage tanks.

The Model 45-RCP is a high vacuum rotary gear type pump with a self-adjusting by-pass valve built into the pump which permits operation of pumps and motor when nozzle valve is closed. Delivery rate is approximately 15 gallons per minute.

Air separator and regulating valve are provided as standard equipment. The pump is belt driven by an explosion proof 1/3 HP 115/230 volt 60 cycle motor that has thermal overload protection.

The Model 46-RCP is similar to the 45-RCP except that two gear pumps are used in each unit with a combined delivery rate through a single outlet of approximately 25 gallons per minute. A single 3/4 HP motor drives both pumps.

The Models 45-H-RC and 45-TP-RC are island type dispensers. The component parts are a 4-rotor horizontal register, an electric motor starting switch and a hydraulic control valve with integral check valve and relief valve. In addition, the TP model has a ticket printing device.

The motor starting switch lever which is located on the exterior of the pedestal housing is also connected to a pilot valve on the hydraulic control valve. When the motor switch lever is pulled to the "on" position, the motor in the remote control pumping unit starts and simultaneously the pilot valve on the hydraulic control valve is opened which permits product to flow through the hydraulic control valve, measuring unit, hose and hose nozzle when the nozzle lever is opened. The hydraulic control valve prevents discharge of product when the electric motor switch is in the "off" position.

Speed and volume of gasoline delivered are controlled by the nozzle valve operated by a self-closing lever.

Inspection and Test

All details of construction were examined by Asst. Engr. G. F. Sklenarik, Committee on Test.

The Models 45-RCP and 46-RCP remote control pumps and the Model 45 pedestal dispensers have been tested and approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories under files MH281, MH4948 and MH1895.

Recommendation

On the basis of the examination and the data submitted by the applicant, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the Tokheim Remote Control Gasoline Pumping Units, Models 45-RCP and 46-RCP and Tokheim Island Dispensing Pedestals Models 45-H-RC and 45-TP-RC for use in New York City when installed in accordance with this report and the requirements of C19-69.C Administrative Code and the requirements of the Electrical Code of the City of New York and provided that each appliance shall bear a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the

WHEREAS, this application was reopened as Vol. II on January 7, 1958, subject to regular procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 22, 1958 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the Zoning Resolution show that the site and Third Avenue are in a retail use, B area, class 1½ height district, East 37th Street and East 38th Street are in retail and local retail use, B area, class 1½ height districts; Second Avenue is in a local retail use, B area, class 1½ height district; that there has been no change in the use, height or area district designations affecting the premises since July 25, 1916 and there is no petition pending before the City Planning Commission for any change in these designations; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated October 22, 1957 acting on Alt. Applic. No. 1074-57, reads:

"1. Proposal to increase the height of bldg. two additional stories requires that that portion fronting on E.

MINUTES

37 St. be set back in accordance with Art. III Sect. 9(c) and Sect. 8(f) of the Zon. Resol." and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 129 feet frontage by 197 feet six inches in depth, occupied by a five and seven story central telephone exchange building; that it is proposed to construct an eighth and ninth story addition to a section of the existing East 37th Street Central Telephone Exchange building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the existing building is "L" shaped and has a frontage on East 37th Street of 125 feet and a depth of 197 feet six inches; that the seven and five story portions of the building are 108 feet 7½ inches and 75 feet in height, respectively; that the Company proposes to add a two story addition to the seven story portion of the building abutting East 37th Street and a four story addition to the five story portion abutting East 38th Street; that the latter addition will conform with the requirements of the Zoning Resolution; that the proposed additions would make the existing building uniform in height, that is, nine stories, or 136 feet and 11½ inches, and they would be architecturally and structurally in keeping with the existing building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that the original portion of the existing building was a six story and basement structure which the Company erected in September, 1912 on the parcel acquired by it in 1910; that a seventh story addition was added to this initial building in April, 1917 pursuant to Alt. No. 906-1914 issued prior to the adoption of the Zoning Resolution in 1916; that in order to meet the increased requirements for telephone service in the area served by this Exchange, the Company erected, in April 1939, a seven story extension on the parcel acquired by it in 1938 pursuant to a variation of the area and height district regulations granted by the Board under Cal. No. 304-38-BZ, and in September 1953, the Company erected a five story extension on the parcel acquired by it in 1950, which parcel is not involved in this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that due to the extensive building development taking place in the central east side of Manhattan, there is a tremendous increase in demand for telephone service in this section, and as a result the five telephone exchange buildings serving this section have nearly reached their equipment capacity; that with the exception of the East 37th Street Exchange building, these buildings have reached their practical ultimate size; that the East 37th Street Exchange is the only existing building serving this section which is structurally capable of expansion to house the additional central office equipment required to meet the anticipated future demand for telephone service in this section of Manhattan; that on the basis of current estimates, the capacity of this building will be reached by the Fall of 1959, which is prior to the time that the proposed addition can be completed; that at that time, the additional telephone exchange capacity which the proposed addition would provide will be urgently needed to meet the estimated public demand for telephone service in its own area, as well as to provide relief to the exchange buildings serving the areas immediately adjacent to the north and south; that the proposed additions would provide the minimum space needed to house the additional central office equipment required to meet such demands; that present schedules contemplate the completion of the proposed addition by September, 1959 and installation of the new central office equipment by the Spring of 1960, provided that the Company is permitted to proceed with the proposed addition at an early date; that it is estimated that the building as thus enlarged will be adequate to meet its service demands at the time of such completion and will provide a reasonable reserve for future growth; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further contends that the premises involved herein front on East 37th Street which is designated as a sixty foot wide street; that under the height regulations of the Zoning Resolution, the proposed eighth and ninth floors would be required to have a setback of approximately 22 feet and 28 feet, respectively; that in 1937, the official map of the City was amended to provide a tunnel exit thoroughfare from the new Queens-Midtown Tunnel on the same block as the Company's premises and contiguous to the north side of East 37th Street; that this exit thoroughfare, together with East 37th Street, has a width of considerably over 100 feet; that based on an assumed 100 foot street width, the setback requirements for the proposed eighth and ninth floors would only be approximately two feet and eight feet, respectively; that strict compliance with Article III, Sections 8f and 9c of the Zoning Resolution presents practical difficulties and unnecessary hardships in that a building conforming therewith would not permit proper arrangement of, or sufficient space for the required central office equipment; that in order to permit efficient operation and maintenance of plant, it is necessary to locate switchboard positions, wire distributing frames, racks and cable slots in continuous, adjacent and, in some instances, in vertical lines and positions from floor to floor; that the desired layout, both as to arrangement of and necessary space for such equipment, is not possible with the required setbacks; that the East 37th Street Central Telephone Exchange building is the telephonic wire center of one of the most important and rapidly developing areas of service demands in the City today; that abandonment of this center and establishment of a new one at another location would involve very substantial expenditures for purchase of land, erection of a new building, installation of central office equipment and reconcentration of outside plant; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that the applicant had substantiated a basis to warrant exercise of discretion to grant under Section 21 of the Zoning Resolution, and is therefore entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the height district regulations of the Zoning Resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 21 as to objection 1, to permit the extension in height, as proposed and indicated on plans filed with this application, marked "Received November 13, 1957," 30 sheets, on condition that in all other respects the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

located directly across the street at No. 448 West 152nd Street, it being their intention to erect a Parish House and Community Center on the site; that this purchase was made without advice of counsel or benefit of title examination and survey; that it was discovered subsequently that the land could not be used for this purpose except at a cost which would be prohibitive due to the fact that the ground is of solid rock; that some outcrop of rock is evident on surface; that the general level of the surface is from six feet to eight feet above the level of the sidewalk; that with apartment type buildings erected on each side of the lot, blasting the rock would be hazardous and therefore the required care in making an excavation would add greatly to the normally high cost of rock excavation; that because of the foregoing reasons this land is barren and unproductive, and has been so for many years; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to the property since July 9, 1951 and that the land is tax exempt; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that this was an appropriate case in which to exercise discretion to grant under Section 7, Subdivision h of the Zoning Resolution.

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on November 4, 1942, as thereafter amended by resolutions adopted through October 29, 1945, by adding thereto:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEST

Re: Calendar Number 697-54-SM.

Subject: Safway Material Hoist Tower.

Safway Steel Products, Inc., filed September 10, 1954 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the Safway Material Hoist Tower under the provisions of the Rules for Erection, Alteration, Repair, Excavation for and Demolition of Building.

Purpose

The tower is used for hoisting materials during the course of building construction.

Description

The hoist tower consists of the bottom section, intermediate section and the top cathead supporting channels.

The bottom section consists of 8"-40# I beams fastened together at each corner.

The intermediate sections consist of 3" Double Extra Pipe, 3" Extra Strong Pipe and 3" Standard Pipe Clamps, braces and all other component parts that are required to build up the tower.

The top section consists of the top cathead supporting channels, which are attached to the top section of the tower by means of heavy duty column clamps.

Platforms are provided as landings at required levels.

Inspection and Test

The applicant has submitted structural computations so as to determine the allowable loads on the various pipe sizes for certain specified heights of tower under a specific load condition. The design and allowable loads were computed by the firm of Purdy & Henderson, Inc., Architects and Engineers, New York City. A copy of the computations are on file with and are part of the record.

The design and heights were based on the using of a 35 cubic foot concrete bucket and 855 feet of hoisting cable. Impact was figured at the acceleration of 1 gravit or 100% of the dead load of bucket, weight of the concrete and the weight of the cable.

The computations were based on the height limitation of 851'-6", using three different pipe sizes for various heights namely, on a basis of 851'-06", the lower 299'-0" would be 3" Double Extra Strong Pipe, the next 201'-6" would be 3" Extra Strong and the upper section of 351'-0" would be 3" Standard Pipe.

The applicant has also submitted revised drawings marked: "Received March 17, 1958 showing 1/2" doubling plate to increase the net area to compensate for the removal of metal from the channels carrying the sheaves."

Recommendation

On the basis of the inspection and test and the computations, details and revised drawings, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the Tower for use in New York City under the provisions of the Rules for Erection, Alteration, Repair, Excavation for and Demolition of Buildings, adopted under Calendar 784-58-SR, on the following conditions:

1. If platforms for loading and unloading are built around the hoist tower; wire mesh protection shall be installed on all open sides from toe board on the platform to guard rail height.

2. The tower shall be posted for maximum load of 35 cubic feet concrete bucket.

3. All gates, enclosures and other safeguards to comply with the requirements of the State Labor Law and the Erection Rules of the Board above cited.

4. The hoist machinery and bottom sheave shall be adequately braced against movement in any direction.

5. Subsurface conditions shall be thoroughly investigated so that the imposed weight of live and dead loads of the tower may be adequately distributed to the supporting soil.

6. That the tower shall be adequately braced in accordance with the requirements of the Demolition Rules.

The Committee further recommends that the height limitation for the Safway Material Hoist Tower shall be 851'-6" with a schedule of pipe sizes for sections of this height as herein described and in the event that towers of lesser heights are required, pipe sizes and sectional heights of such pipe sizes shall be computed using accepted engineering formulae with stress limitations as allowed in the Administrative Building Code, and further, that when bridge platforms between the tower and the floor of the building are required; such bridging shall not impose, on any leg of the tower a live and dead load on the tower legs beyond the extra allowable strength in the column that may not have been utilized by the loads, of and on, the tower itself.

The Committee further recommends that the design, erection and maintenance shall be under the responsible supervision of the Safway Steel Products Inc., and that all plans filed with the Department of Housing and Buildings showing the use of such hoist tower shall be marked: "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar 697-54-SM."

T. E. McLaron for Wayne Pump Co., Salisbury, Maryland, filed March 15, 1956 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the appliance known as the Wayne Power-Operated Discharge Device (for dispensing gasoline) Models 90 and 90X under the provisions of C19-69.0 Administrative Code.

Purpose

The appliance is used to dispense gasoline.

Description

The models are basically a modification of the basic Model 80 approved by the Board under Calendar 779-38-SA Vol. II, the difference being that the components are in one casing.

The appliance consists of the Wayne Solo Pump containing the pumping unit, check and pressure relief valve, by-pass valve, strainer and air separator and motor; the computer which is so designed that on the completion of a sale, the switch lever is returned to its initial position, therefore the switch lever must be returned to its final position, shutting off the pump before the nozzle can be returned to the nozzle boot. The final component is the meter.

The Model 90-X differs from the 90 only in that rollers are attached to the housing to protect it from rubbing of the hose and a decorative scuff panel around the hose nozzle boot.

The Model 90-1-198 differs from the 90 as it is a dummy dispenser. The pump, air separator and motor have been removed to a distant point and the cam operated valve, in conjunction with an electrical switch have been added to permit control of the pump from the remote dispenser.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEST

Re. Cal. No. 305-57-SA.

Subject: Erie City Iron Works, Model RGO Combination Gas and Light Oil Rotary Burner.

Charles M. Spindler, for Erie City Iron Works filed March 29, 1957 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the appliance known as Erie City Iron Works, Model RGO Combination Gas and Light Oil Rotary Burner under the provisions of the Oil Burner Rules of the Board and Article 12, Chapter 26 Administrative Building Code.

Purpose

The appliance is a combination gas and oil burner for domestic and commercial heating.

Description

The principle of the rotary cup oil burner is atomization of oil by discharging a thin film of oil into a high velocity air stream. Rotational movement is given to the cup by a belt drive between a small motor and the hollow shaft which is supported by the main housing. The stationary fuel pipe extends through the hollow shaft and is supported from the rear of the housing. The end of the fuel pipe is provided with a tip which discharges the oil in the back portion of the cup. High speed rotation forms the oil into a thin film on the walls of the cup. In order that the oil film will be of uniform thickness it is necessary that the inside of the cup be perfectly smooth. A slight taper moves the oil forward to the knife edge where it is discharged into the high velocity air stream and is instantly atomized and mixed with secondary air.

The oil burner trim consists of a variable-orifice flow control valve, a solenoid-operated shut-off valve, a manually operated needle-type adjustment valve, an indicating pressure gage, thermometer, pressure regulating valve and flexible lengths of supply and return lines. The transfer pump, oil strainer, check valves and steam are shop assembled on Keystone Unit.

The path of the secondary air is drawn through the setting by the induced draft fan. The path of the primary air is forced through the burner by a centrifugal blower. The primary air enters the furnace through an angular vaned air nozzle surrounding the oil atomizing cup and serves to create the initial turbulence required for intimate air-fuel mixture. The additional air required to support complete combustion enters through the damper openings in the wind-box and is drawn into the furnace through the annular area surrounding the refractory burner cone. Oil or gas, primary air and secondary air all enter the furnace concentrically, insuring a uniform mixture of fuel and air for complete combustion.

The gas is piped to the burner through a solenoid-operated valve (diaphragm type-slow opening, quick closing) a manual plug-cock valve and a butterfly type flow regulating valve, all of which are shop-assembled with the necessary piping and fittings. The "On-Off" solenoid valve is controlled by the programming and safety devices. A small stop-cock tapped into the supply side of the main valve supplies ample pilot gas for ignition. For safety there is a plug valve to be used when disconnecting or not using gas for firing.

The actual nerve center of the control system is the modulating pressure control which is piped directly to the Steam gage line from the upper drum. Any variation in drum pressure causes the bellows in the pressure control to expand or contract and this movement through linkage changes the setting on a potentiometer coil which is electrically connected to a similar coil on the modutrol motor. In this manner any change in pressure detected by the modulating pressure control causes the modulating control motor on the burner to rotate. This movement of the modulating control motor through linkage increases or decreases the firing rate of the burner depending upon the direction of rotation.

During normal operation as the drum pressure drops, the controls cause the burner to approach maximum firing rate; as the drum pressure rises, the modulating pressure control causes the burner to approach minimum firing rate. After the minimum firing rate has been reached and if the pressure continues to rise, the circuit through the high pressure limit control will be interrupted, at a predetermined maximum pressure causing the burner to shut down. After the pressure drops to the cut-in point of the high limit pressure control, the ignition assembly and main burner controls are energized in sequence; and after the main flame has been established the burner is again under the control of the modulating pressure control. In this manner the Keystone Unit will supply a flow of steam to meet varying demands at a constant pressure at all times without the close attention of an operator.

If the load demand on the unit ever exceeds the input of the feed-water, the burner will shut down and an alarm bell will ring as soon as the water drops below the safe operating level as determined by the water column level control. When the water level is restored to normal the unit will re-cycle automatically.

Should a flame failure occur for any reason other than the action of the high pressure control, or if the flame scanner fails to detect the presence of a flame in the furnace, the main fuel valves will be de-energized immediately and the alarm horn will be energized. After the cause of flame failure has been rectified the programmer must be manually reset by pressing the red button on the front of the programmer cabinet.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEST

Re: Cal. No. 364-57-SA.

Subject: Erie City Iron Works Steam Atomizing Oil Burner.

C. M. Spindler for Erie City Iron Works, Erie, Pa., filed April 8 1957 an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the appliance known as Erie City Iron Works Steam Atomizing Oil Burner under the provisions of the Oil Burner Rules of the Board and Article 12, Chapter 26 Administrative Building Code.

Purpose

The appliance is an oil-fired heating appliance for domestic and commercial installation.

Description

The burner consists of the air register with its simultaneous adjustable burner louvers controlled by the louver control mechanism on the left side of the burner front plate, the atomizer assembly inserted through the hub of the air register, burner arch tile. A flame scanner mount is located on the burner cover along with an ignition assembly.

The oil and steam enter the atomizer gun assembly through flexible metal hoses and pass through their respective passages into the atomizing head, from which a conical pattern of finely atomized oil is sprayed into the combustion chamber of the boiler.

The oil system of the burner normally consists of an adequately sized strainer, a pressure regulator, thermometer, pressure gauges, check valve, manual shut-off valve, adjustable port control valve, flexible hose and a solenoid operated safety shut-off valve. If required, an oil transfer pump, electric oil pre-heater, steam oil pre-heater are also furnished and are usually shop assembled on the boiler unit.

The oil pressure required at the burner for maximum capacity ordinarily will not exceed 90# but depends on the viscosity and heating value of oil delivered to the burner.

The burner steam system normally consists of manual shut-off valves, sediment separator, pressure regulator, solenoid operated shut-off valve, indicating pressure gauge, check valves, flexible hose, strainer, atomizing steam pressuretrol and for heavy oil a purge solenoid shut-off valve.

The steam pressure required for atomizing the oil is considerably affected by the viscosity of the oil and to some extent by the quality of the atomizing steam, which should be substantially dry. The steam pressure at the burner ordinarily will not exceed 20# above oil pressure for maximum capacity. The burner is suitable for higher pressures should they be required.

The forced draft fan supplies the air necessary to support combustion through the burner louvers, where the air is given a swirling motion through the burner throat and into the combustion chamber.

The burner arch tile in conjunction with the cylindrical air register is specially designed to promote rapid and efficient combustion. The throat tile holds the air closely around the flame at the same time assisting combustion by its heating effect.

The diffuser mounted on the furnace end of the oil pipe is a conical shaped casting made of heat resistant metal. Its duty is to prevent the flame from being carried away from the atomizer by the incoming air, while at the same time, through a series of slotted openings, it provides for the passage of sufficient air to permit combustion to start.

ards and Appeals for approval of the Erie City Iron Works Combination Gas & Heavy Oil Rotary Burner under the provisions of the Oil Burner Rules and Article 12, Chapter 26, Administrative Building Code.

Purpose

The appliance is a combination gas and oil burner for domestic and commercial heating.

Description

Ignition for the Erie City Burner is established by using an electric spark to ignite a small jet of gas or light oil.

OIL BURNER

The principle of the rotary cup oil burner is atomization of oil by discharging a thin film of oil into a high velocity air stream. Rotational movement is given to the cup by a belt drive between a small motor and the hollow shaft which is supported by the main housing. The stationary fuel pipe extends through the hollow shaft and is supported from the rear of the housing. The end of the fuel pipe is provided with a tip which discharges the oil in the back portion of the cup. High speed rotation forms the oil into a thin film on the walls of the cup. In order that the oil film will be of uniform thickness it is necessary that the inside of the cup be perfectly smooth. A slight taper moves the oil forward to the knife edge where it is discharged into the high velocity air stream and is instantly atomized and mixed with secondary air.

The oil burner trim consists of a variable-orifice flow control valve, a solenoid-operated shut-off valve, a manually operated needle-type adjustment valve, an indicating pressure gage, a thermometer, pressure regulating valve and flexible lengths of supply and return lines. The transfer pump, oil strainer, check valves and a steam and electric preheaters are shop assembled on the Keystone Unit.

The path of the secondary air is drawn through the setting by the induced draft fan. The path of the primary air is forced through the burner by a centrifugal blower. The primary air enters the furnace through an angular vane air nozzle surrounding the oil atomizing cup and serves to create the initial turbulence required for intimate air-fuel mixture. The additional air required to support complete combustion enters through the damper openings in the windbox and is drawn into the furnace through the annular area surrounding the refractory burner cone. Oil or gas, primary air and secondary air all enter the furnace concentrically, insuring a uniform mixture of fuel and air for complete combustion.

GAS BURNER

The gas is piped to the burner through a solenoid operated valve (diaphragm type-slow opening, quick closing), a manual plug-cock valve and a butterfly pipe flow regulating valve, all of which are shop-assembled with necessary piping and fittings. The "On-Off" solenoid valve is controlled by the programming and safety devices. A small stop-cock tapped into the supply side of the main valve supplies ample pilot gas ignition. For safety there is a plug valve to be used when disconnecting or not using gas for firing.

NORMAL OPERATION

The actual nerve center of the control system is the modulating pressure control which is piped directly to the steam gage line from the upper drum. Any variation in drum pressure causes the bellows in the pressure control to expand or contract and this movement through linkage changes the setting on a potentiometer coil which is electrically connected to a similar coil on the modulator motor. In this manner any change in pressure detected by the modulating pressure control causes the modulating control motor on the burner to rotate. This movement of the modulating control motor through linkage increases or decreases the firing rate of the burner depending upon the direction of rotation.

During normal operation as the drum pressure drops, the controls cause the burner to approach maximum firing rate; as the drum pressure rises, the modulating pressure control causes the burner to approach minimum firing rate. After the minimum firing rate has been reached and if the pressure continues to rise, the circuit through the high pressure limit control will be interrupted at a predetermined maximum pressure causing the burner to shut down. After the pressure drops to the cut-in point of the high limit pressure control, the ignition assembly and main burner controls are energized in sequence; and after the main flame has been established the burner is again under the control of the modulating pressure control. In this manner the Keystone Unit will supply a flow of steam to meet varying demands at a constant pressure at all times without the close attention of an operator.

If the load demand on the unit ever exceeds the input of the feedwater, the burner will shut down and an alarm bell will ring as soon as the water drops below the safe operating level as determined by the water column level control. When the water level is restored to normal the unit will re-cycle automatically.

Should a flame failure occur for any reason other than the action of the high pressure control or if the flame scanner fails to detect the presence of flame in the furnace, the main fuel valves will be de-energized immediately and the alarm horn will be energized. After the cause of the flame failure has been rectified the programmer must be manually reset by pressing the red button on the front of the programmer cabinet.

Ever-Tite Coupling Co., Inc., New York, filed April 16, 1957 on application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the Ever-Tite Gauge Box Closer 2C411R and 3C413N under the provisions of Section C19-59.m.5 of the Administrative Code.

Purpose

A spring loaded check valve to act as an automatic closure for test well openings in storage tanks.

Description

The 2C411R gauge box closer is designed for installation in existing test wells and is installed by inserting the device in the gauge pipe riser and then by means of an eye bolt screw and any type of cross members to hold the device in position while the locking screws are tightened. The eye bolt is then removed.

The check valve, equipped with a suitable gasket, is held in a closed position by means of two stainless steel springs.

To measure the contents of a tank, the standard closure plug for the gauge box is removed and a gauging stick is inserted against the check valve, forcing it open. After removal of the gauge stick, the valve again closes by spring action and the closure plug is replaced.

The 3C413N gauge box closer is designed for new installations and is included with a complete gauge box.

Inspection and Test

All details of construction were examined by Asst. Engr. G. F. Sklenarik, Committee on Test.

Recommendation

On the basis of the examination and the data filed by the applicant, the Committee on Test recommends the approval of the EverTite Gauge Box Closer, Models 2C411R and 3C413N for voluntary use in New York City on outside storage tanks permitted to have test wells in accordance with Section C19-59m.5 Administrative Code and the Oil Burner Rules of the Board and provided that each device shall bear a label, permanently affixed, reading "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Calendar Number 366-57-SM" or in lieu thereof that each carton in which the device will be marketed be so stamped.

NOTICE

APPEALS AS TO MULTIPLE DWELLINGS

The Legislature, under Chapter 333 of 1948, has clarified Section 60 of the Multiple Dwelling Law by describing the agency authorized to grant variances under this Section, so as clearly to mean in New York City—the Board of Standards and Appeals.

Chapter 508 of 1948 has also been adopted by the Legislature, amending the Multiple Dwelling Law to provide, under new Section 310, for a Board of Appeals. By description the Board of Appeals means in New York City—the Board of Standards and Appeals. Section 310 provides as follows as to appeals:

LAWS OF NEW YORK—By Authority

Chapter 508 of 1948

§ 310. Board of appeals. 1. As used in this section "board" shall mean the agency of a city constituted as a board and authorized by law both to grant variances of the zoning resolution and to make rules supplemental to laws regulating construction, maintenance, use and area of buildings.

2. Where the compliance with the strict letter of this chapter causes any practical difficulties or any unnecessary hardships the board shall have the power, on satisfactory proof at a public hearing, provided the spirit and intent of this chapter are maintained and public health, safety and welfare preserved, and substantial justice done, to vary or modify any provision or requirement of this chapter, or any rule, regulation, supplementary regulation, ruling or order of the department with respect to the provisions of this chapter, as follows:

a. For multiple dwellings and buildings existing on July first, nineteen hundred forty-eight, provisions relating to:

- (1) Height and bulk;
- (2) Required open spaces;
- (3) Minimum dimensions of yards or courts; or
- (4) Means of egress.

b. For multiple dwellings and buildings erected or to be erected after July first, nineteen hundred forty-eight, and such dwellings thereafter altered or to be altered, provisions relating to:

- (1) Required open spaces; or
- (2) Minimum dimensions of yards or courts.

Variations or modifications may be granted pursuant to this paragraph b only on condition that open areas for light and air are provided which are at least equivalent in area to those required by the applicable provisions of this chapter.

3. An application for such a variance or modification may be made by any person aggrieved or by the head of any public agency, within such time and under such procedure, conditions and rules as may be prescribed by the board. The board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of an application and shall require that due notice be given of the time and place of such hearing to the applicant and to the department. Any person or a duly authorized representative of any public agency may appear at any such hearing and be heard on any such application.

4. In every case the board shall state the reason or reasons for its decision. All decisions of the board shall be subject to review in the same manner as is provided by law for review of decisions of such board respecting variances of the zoning resolution.

5. A record of all decisions of the board, indexed according to the section or sections of this chapter affected thereby, shall be kept in the office of the board. Such record shall be open to public inspection at all times during business hours.

COURT DECISIONS.

Matter of Cutrano vs. Murdock:—On February 5, 1957, the Board granted a variance under Section 7, subdivisions f and i and 7A, for a term of fifteen (15) years, to permit in a business use district the erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station, auto washing, lubrication, minor repairs with hand tools only, office and sale of auto accessories, within 75 ft. of the residence district; Cal. No.
239-26-BZ, Vol. III; Premises 1890-1900 McDonald Avenue and 354-360 Quentin Road, southeast corner, Borough of Brooklyn.

At Special Term, Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Friedman remitted case to Board for rehearing in a lengthy opinion after reviewing the previous application and the current application, and concludes his opinion, in part, as follows:

"Since the determining resolution upon which the variance was granted is improper, the matter is remitted to the respondents for reconsideration and the making of a new determination in proper form. Since the board must again consider the matter, the court will now deny petitioners' motion for an examination before trial but will direct that the board, in its reconsideration, hold another public hearing prior to making its new determination, at which public hearing the petitioners will have ample opportunity and should be afforded ample opportunity to examine and cross-examine the persons set forth in petitioners' motion to take depositions. In the event that such persons do not attend before the board, then petitioner may make proper application for subpoenas to compel their attendance, and if necessary they shall be entitled to an adjournment of the first sched-

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, this application was reopened as Vol. II on April 9, 1957 subject to regular procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 22, 1958 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; laid over to May 6, 1958, for inspection and decision; hearing closed; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the Zoning Resolution show that the site is in a residence use, B area, class 1¼ height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated February 26, 1957 acting on N.B. Applic. No. 88-57, reads:

"1. Proposed use of gasoline and oil selling station, lubritorium, car washing, minor repairs, office, sales room, parking & Storage of more than five motor vehicles in a residence use district is contrary to Art. II, Sect. 3 of the Z.R."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 131.56 feet frontage by 183.5 feet in depth, presently vacant, except for five commercial billboards; that it is proposed to erect a gasoline service station with lubritorium, facilities for car washing and minor repairs, an office and salesroom, and the parking and storage of more than five motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further states that Southern Boulevard on the west side, from Fordham Road south to the site in question, and for several blocks further south, is bordered by small retail stores, gas stations and multiple dwellings; that the erection of a modern gas station would not only be of great value to the thousands of commercial and private vehicle operators who pass this corner daily, as well as neighborhood motorists, but would generally enhance the appearance of Southern Boulevard by substituting a clean, well designed and well equipped structure for a shabby and neglected empty lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the Bronx Zoo, which is directly opposite the site in question, is privately owned and controlled by the New York Zoological Society and hence not within the purview of the language of Section 21A; that the entrance at 185th Street is not a public entrance, but is for the use of park employees who drive their vehicles to work; that a small parking area immediately within the gate is provided for such employees' use and a uniformed guard is stationed at the gate to exclude any but employees of the park from using the entrance; that the attitude of the Park Department towards the proposed use was explored and a letter from the Department signed by the Commissioner states that there is no public park or zoo entrance at this point and they consequently have no legal ground upon which they can object to a filling station under proper conditions; that the Park Commissioner stated that he had discussed the proposed use of the property with officials of the New York Zoological Society, and not only were they not opposed to such use, but they believed that a filling station and parking facilities might be beneficial to them; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to the property since February 13, 1957 and that the assessed valuation of land is $39,600; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that this was an appropriate case in which to exercise discretion to grant under Section 7, Subdivisions e and h of the Zoning Resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the Zoning Resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 7e for a term of fifteen years, to permit the premises to be occupied as a gasoline service station and parking area, as proposed and as indicated on plans filed with this application, marked "Received March 22, 1957", 5 sheets, "May 21, 1957", 1 sheet, and "March 7, 1958", 1 sheet, on condition that all buildings and uses now on the site shall be removed and the premises leveled substantially to the grade of Southern Boulevard; that the accessory building and car washing building shall be constructed as proposed on such plans and shall meet the requirements of the Building Code in all respects, shall be faced with face brick on all sides and without a cellar; that along the lot lines there shall be erected and maintained a woven wire fence of the chain link type erected on a masonry base to a total height of not less than 5 feet, 6 inches; that such fence may be omitted on the street building lines of Southern Boulevard and East 185th Street; that curb cuts shall be restricted to two, each 30 feet in width to East 185th Street, where shown and three of similar width to Southern Boulevard, with no portion of a curb cut nearer than 5 feet to a side lot line as prolonged; that gasoline pumps shall be of a low approved type, erected not nearer than 15 feet to the street building line of Southern Boulevard; that the number of gasoline storage tanks shall not exceed twelve 550 gallon approved tanks; that the premises where not occupied by accessory building and pumps shall be paved with concrete or asphalt; that the sidewalks and curbing abutting the site shall be reconstructed or repaired to the satisfaction of the Borough President; that such portable fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the Fire Commissioner shall direct; that under Section 7h there may be parking in the rear as proposed for pleasure cars only and for a similar term; that signs shall be restricted to a permanent sign attached to the facade of the accessory building and the illuminated globes of the pumps, excluding all temporary signs, advertising devices and roof signs but permitting the erection within the intersection of one standard for supporting a sign, which may be illuminated, advertising only the brand of gasoline on sale and permitting such sign to extend beyond the building line at right angles to Southern Boulevard not more than 4 feet; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

THE RESOLUTION—

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application on April 22, 1958 after due notice by publication in the Bulletin; laid over to May 6, 1958, for inspection and decision; hearing closed; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the Zoning Resolution show that the site, Clarke Place and Grand Concourse are in a residence use, B area, class 1¼ height district; Walton Avenue and East 169th Street are in business and residence use, B area, class 1¼ height districts; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated November 12, 1957 acting on Alt. Applic. No. 827-57, reads:

"1. In a residence district the proposed parking of motor vehicles is contrary to Art. II, Sect. 3 of the Zoning Resolution & is therefore denied."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner purchased these premises for the purpose of erecting a six-story apartment house building and caused new building plans to be filed with the Building Department for this purpose; that the proposed new apartment house construction will be postponed until sufficient mortgage financing can be obtained; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that a grant of the variance will not adversely affect any of the surrounding properties; that the proposed non-transient parking lot is in the nature of a conforming use as the Zoning Resolution permits the maintenance of a parking lot in a residence use district, accessory to a multiple dwelling; that if these vacant premises were under the same ownership as either of the adjoining multiple dwellings, then the proposed parking lot would be a permitted accessory use; that there is an urgent need for off street parking in this neighborhood as there are no off street parking facilities or garages along Clarke Place or any convenient facilities within the entire affected area; that there is bumper to bumper parking at all times, and particularly since the placing of alternate street parking restrictions along Clarke Place; that all of the multiple dwellings which line both sides of Clarke Place were erected before the Zoning Resolution was amended so as to require off street parking; that if these apartment house buildings were to be first erected at the present time, then a garage or an accessory parking lot identical with the one proposed herein would be mandatory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant also contends that the gates in the chain link fence are to be furnished with a lock; that each parking space will be fixed and the car owner will be provided with a key; that parking will be limited to tenants of the apartment buildings adjoining and opposite, on weekly or monthly leases; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the present owner has held title to the property since June 7, 1954 and that the assessed valuation of land is $26,000; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that this was an appropriate case in which to exercise discretion to grant under Section 7, Subdivision h of the Zoning Resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the Zoning Resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 7h for a term of five years to permit the premises to be occupied for the transient parking of pleasure-car type vehicles, substantially as proposed and indicated on plans filed with this application, marked "Received December 3, 1957", 2 sheets, on condition that the premises shall be leveled substantially to the grade of Clarke Place, and surfaced with clean gravel or steam cinders, treated with a binder and properly rolled; that there shall be erected on all lot lines where walls of adjoining buildings do not occur and across adjoining court spaces woven wire fences of the chain link type erected on a masonry base to a total height of not less than 5 feet, 6 inches with an opening therein along the front for entrance and exit not over 15 feet in width with curb cut opposite of similar width; that such opening shall be fitted with a gate, which shall be generally kept closed; that such parking lot shall be solely for the use of tenants in the apartment house on the block; that each parking space shall be assigned to a tenant and he shall be furnished with a key to the gate; that such portable fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the Fire Commissioner shall direct; that bumpers shall be maintained against all fences and walls for protection thereof; that where such fences are erected where courts of adjoining buildings exist, there may be a concrete curb not less than 18 inches in height and 10 inches in width for protection of cars parked on the site; that signs shall be restricted to one sign attached to the fence, advertising the parking and storage use, rates charged and such other information as the Commissioner of Licenses may require; that such sign shall not exceed ten square feet in area, shall not be illuminated nor extend beyond the building line; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within the requirements of Section 22A of the Zoning Resolution.

uled hearing to enable petitioners to apply for and serve said subpoenas. Settle order on notice.” (New York Law Journal, August 30, 1957, page 6).

A notice of appeal to the Appellate Division has been served and filed.

Matter of Cafazzo vs. Murdock:—On February 19, 1957, the Board granted a variance under Section 7f of the Zoning Resolution, to permit in a business use district, for a term of fifteen years, the erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station, auto washing, lubrication, office, sale of auto accessories, minor repairs with hand tools only; Cal. No. 427-56-BZ; Premises 6916-6928 New Utrecht Avenue, 1527-1541 70th Street, northwest corner, Borough of Brooklyn.

At Special Term, Part One, Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Brenner sustained the Board in the following decision: (N.Y.L.J. May 1, 1958, page 11).

“Motion by respondents to vacate an order of certiorari. An application was filed under section 7f of the zoning resolution to permit, in a business use district, the erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station. Objections were filed by various owners in the affected area on the ground that the proposed use would increase traffic hazards, depreciate realty values, increase hazards to children going to and from a public school close by and also children using a playground diagonally opposite. After a hearing and inspection of the site respondents granted the application for fifteen years under certain conditions. The record discloses that respondents gave due consideration to the objections and acted on a reasonable basis and on sufficient evidence in exercising their discretionary powers. The determination is neither arbitrary, capricious nor contrary to law and consequently, may not be set aside. (Matter of Douglaston Civic Ass'n v. Board of Standards and Appeals, 278 App. Div. 659, 660, aff'd 302 N. Y. 920; (Matter of Sima v. Board of Standards and Appeals, 278 App. Div. 785). The motion is granted, the determination of respondents affirmed, petition dismissed and the order of certiorari herein vacated. Submit order.”

Matter of Balzarini vs. Murdock, et al:—On February 19, 1957, the Board granted a variance under Sections 7-f and 7-i of the Zoning Resolution, to permit, for a term of fifteen (15) years, in a business use district the proposed erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station. Car washing (non-automatic), minor repairs with hand tools only, office and sales, storage of accessories, parking for more than five (5) cars waiting to be serviced; Cal. No. 418-56-BZ; Premises 7101-7127 New Utrecht Avenue, 1573 72nd Street, northeast corner, 1572 71st Street and 7102-7124 16th Avenue, Borough of Brooklyn.

In Supreme Court, Kings County, Mr. Justice McDonald affirmed the determination of the Board in the following decision, appearing New York Journal of April 24, 1958:—

“This is an application by the respondent Board of Standards and Appeals to vacate the order of certiorari, dismiss the petition upon which it was granted and affirm the determination made by the Board of Standards and Appeals in granting the application for a variance made pursuant to Section 7(f) and 7(i) of the Zoning Resolution. The record indicates that the Board of Standards and Appeals has acted on a reasonable basis and on sufficient evidence in granting the application for a variance subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards. The determination of the Board is therefore not arbitrary, capricious or illegal, and consequently may not be set aside. (Matter of Douglaston Civic Assn. v. Board of Standards and Appeals, 278 App. Div. 659, 660, aff'd. 302 N. Y. 920; Matter of Sima v. Bd. of Standards and Appeals, 278 App. Div. 785.)

The order of certiorari is vacated, the petition dismissed and the determination of the Board of Standards and Appeals is affirmed.”

RULES

Fire Drill Rules, Adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals, October 5, 1923

(593-23-SR)

DEFINITION OF "FIRE DRILL"

The method and practice of the systematic and orderly vacating of a building by its occupants in case of emergency, panic or fire in the least possible time—by the nearest safe means of exit—and the use of fire appliances which shall be provided for the extinguishing or retarding of fire and the safeguarding of human life.

Rule 1.

In all buildings as defined in Article 1, Section 10 of the Labor Law in which fire drills are required pursuant to Section 279 thereof and in any other building in which such drills are required by the Fire Commissioner pursuant to the power conferred in section 491 of the New York City Charter, it shall be the duty of the owners, lessees or tenants to conduct fire drills monthly and at such other times as the Fire Commissioner may direct.

For the purpose of conducting such fire drills the owner or tenants shall appoint from among their employees such responsible and dependable persons, male or female, who shall efficiently perform the duties of the various positions of the fire drill organization, as specified on the accompanying chart.

It shall be the duty of the owner or tenant to enter in the blank spaces provided for that purpose in said chart the names of persons so selected and post said chart and copies of the rules in a conspicuous place.

Rule 2. Duties of Foreman.

The Foreman or Person in Charge shall direct, enforce and have full charge of the "Fire Drill" in every factory on each floor. Each day before work is begun he shall see that extinguishers, fire hose, fire buckets, etc., are in readiness for use, exit doors are unlocked, aisles are free from obstruction, that stairways, halls, etc., are properly lighted, and shall remedy any dangerous condition found to exist. Immediately after work is commenced he shall check up the Fire Drill Organization list and note if the regularly assigned persons are present; if any are found to be absent, he shall assign other employees (if practicable) to perform their duties.

He shall immediately notify new employees of the existence of the Fire Drill Organization and give them the necessary instructions as to the duties they are to perform, etc.

He shall be familiar with the operation and location of the interior alarm signal box on his floor.

He shall listen for the test signal each morning at the appointed hour and in the event of the test signal not being heard he shall communicate with the superintendent or other person in charge of the building and advise him of the fact. The (Floor Captain's) Foreman's orders are final as to the carrying out of the fire drill on his particular floor.

Rule 3. Duties of Watchmen.

The WATCHMEN shall see that all doors and windows are closed so as to prevent the spread of fire. The WATCHMEN shall be the only persons permitted to remain on the floor during the progress of a fire drill and do so at their own risk. For ordinary purposes only one watchman and a substitute shall be designated. In special cases, however, extra watchmen may be assigned by consent in writing from Fire Commissioner.

Rule 4. Duties of Searchers.

The MALE AND FEMALE SEARCHERS shall search all toilets, dressing rooms and emergency rooms used and frequented by their sex and all other portions of the floor and order all persons, except those authorized to remain, to leave the premises. They are to take care of and assist all persons who may faint or be disabled.

SEARCHERS shall leave the floor immediately after the last squad leaves.

Rule 5. Duties of Street Alarm Box Runner.

The STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall be familiar with the location of the nearest city fire alarm box and know how it is operated.

In ordinary practice fire drills the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER shall report to the Foreman for orders, and if his services are not required he shall promptly file out of the premises with the other occupants.

Only when a fire actually occurs on his floor, or when ordered to do so by the Foreman, shall the STREET-ALARM-BOX-RUNNER proceed to the street alarm box and send in the fire alarm.

RULES

Rule 6. Duties of Fire Brigade.

The fire brigade shall have full charge of the operation of all auxiliary fire fighting apparatus and shall endeavor to extinguish, or at least hold in check until the arrival of the Fire Department, any fire that may occur. When it is necessary for the fire brigade to respond to different floors in the building they shall not use the stairways or fire escapes while the occupants are escaping from the premises.

Rule 7. Duties of Exit Guards.

The EXIT GUARDS shall station themselves at all exit doors leading to fire escapes, stairways, and other means of escape immediately upon the sounding of the alarm. There shall be two guards for each exit, if practicable; one to stand in the hallway holding back the door and the other directly inside on the floor. They are to keep the exit doors open and direct the movements of the persons using these exits and prevent congestion.

EXIT GUARDS shall remain at their stations until all of the occupants of the building have passed their station. Then close their doors and pass out of the building. Upon signal for the occupants to return, EXIT GUARDS shall take their designated stations and remain there until all persons have returned to their respective floors.

Rule 8. Duties of Squad Monitors.

The SQUAD MONITORS, as soon as the alarm is sounded, shall see that the employees under their charge quickly form into line, two abreast, and numbering not more than thirty to each squad. They shall see that all aisles and passageways are cleared of obstructions.

Note: Chairs, stools, baskets, etc., should be pushed under or placed on top of work benches.

MONITORS shall proceed at the head of their respective squads to the exit assigned, and then march up or down the stairs or to other exits as directed by the EXIT GUARDS.

On reaching the sidewalk MONITORS shall keep their squads in order and lead them a reasonable distance from the building, so as not to cause congestion and interference with fire apparatus. When the proper signal is given they shall return to their respective floors at head of their squads.

MONITORS will at all times see that those under their charge conduct themselves in a respectable and orderly manner.

Rule 9. Holding of Drills.

FIRE DRILLS shall be held at least once each month at varied hours of the day, and all of the occupants shall participate therein simultaneously. Such drills shall conduct all occupants to a place of safety.

Where dual operation interior fire alarm systems are installed as permitted under Rule 11 of the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, the fire drill conducted each month shall include all of the persons on the premises engaged at work for a factory, and drills shall be conducted at least twice, each year in which all of the persons on the premises shall participate simultaneously.

Rule 10. Duties of Owner.

It shall be the duty of the OWNER, LESSEE OR TENANT OF THE BUILDING or his authorized agent or their representatives to personally observe that the "Fire Drill" is held simultaneously on every floor of the building and the participation therein of every occupant of such building. Any FIRE DRILL in which all of the occupants do not participate shall not be considered as complying with the LAW, except as otherwise provided in these rules.

The person or persons representing the OWNERS, LESSEE OR TENANT, who supervises the FIRE DRILL at the building shall submit to an examination by the Division of Fire Prevention as to their experience and general fitness for such duties, and shall be so certified in writing by the FIRE COMMISSIONER.

It shall be the duty of the ENGINEER, SUPERINTENDENT or other PERSON IN CHARGE of a building having an interior fire alarm system to test such system daily immediately after the beginning of business, and to see that all apparatus operated by springs, requiring winding are rewound after each alarm and kept in normal condition for operation.

Rule 11. Duties of Engineer.

Whenever it is necessary to test the fire alarm system at any other time of the day, owing to repairs, etc., being made, the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING will first notify all Foremen of the several floors of the intended test and likewise notify them when the repairs, etc. are completed. This precaution is taken to prevent confusion and excitement, also misunderstanding of the alarm signals.

It shall also be the duty of the PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING to sound the interior alarm system at irregular intervals, but not less than once each calendar month, for the purpose of holding practice fire drills. He shall keep on the premises a record of such drills, showing the date when held and the required time for all occupants to reach the street or a point of safety outside the building.

The PERSON IN CHARGE OF BUILDING must immediately acquaint new tenants of the existence of the "Fire Drill" Organization and its purport.

Rule 12. Registration.

The name and address of every person, corporation or co-partnership, that will, under professional service, carry on the trade, business or calling of establishing, maintaining or supervising the "Fire Drill" shall be registered in the Fire Department, which Department shall, upon evidence of fitness, grant a certificate to that effect.
